

SEX WORK IS LEGAL

Working as a sex worker is legal

You don't have to tell anyone
you are trans

Never disclose your status
unless it feels safe

PEKERJAAN SEX ITU LEGAL

Bekerja sebagai pekerja sex itu legal

Anda tidak harus memberitahukan diri
anda seorang waria kepada siapa saja

Jangan menceritakan status/keberadaan anda kecuali kalau
anda berasa aman

การขายบริการเป็นงานที่ถูกกฎหมาย

การมีอาชีพเป็นพนักงานบริการนั้น
ถูกต้องตามกฎหมาย

คุณไม่จำเป็นต้องบอกใครๆว่าคุณเป็นทรานส์*
หรือสาวประเภทสอง

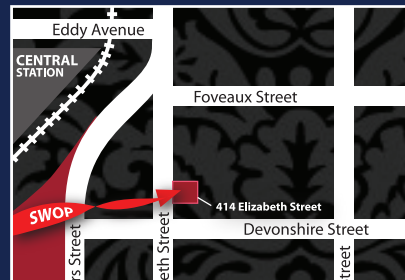

คุณไม่จำเป็นต้องเปิดเผยเพศของคุณ
หากคุณรู้สึกไม่ปลอดภัย

TRANS MEN

- To get more work, more clients, or to get parlour work, you can work as the gender with which you don't identify.
- Most trans men work privately to get business. We are not currently aware of any parlours that are providing employment to trans men.
- You can work regularly whilst you transition with hormones/surgery, if you choose to do so.

TRANS WOMEN

- Work is available for trans women privately, in parlours or as street based sex workers.
- Workers have told us that online advertising works well for them.
- You can work regularly whilst you transition with hormones/surgery, if you choose to do so.

SAFETY TIPS

- Always go with your 'gut instinct'.
- Tell someone where you are working/going and how long you will be gone.
- Try to work in pairs or let the client think you have someone nearby.
- Use your phone as a decoy, pretend you are talking on it as you walk away from danger.
- If meeting your client in a hotel room, have them book and pay in advance in their name.
- If the client is coming to your place, do not give them your full address until they visually confirm they are near your building.
- If you feel like you are in danger make as much noise as possible. Yell and scream something like 'GET AWAY, GET AWAY!'

SWOP

We are a peer based organisation with a transgender outreach worker based in our Sydney office.

We are also able to assist sex workers all over NSW using telephone, email, social media and face-to-face outreach.
